2020 Worksheet

The Challenge

Being the first to present a complete furniture quote often has a big impact on whether a project is won or lost. In order to do this, a business needs to have a consistent platform for all departments to keep the project rolling, shorten the sales cycle and reduce errors. Sales teams need to be empowered to work independently and build their own quotes using software that can electronically communicate with other team members to create a seamless flow of information.

The Solution

2020 Worksheet is the specification tool for 2020 Cap, 2020 Giza and 2020 Visual Impression. It allows your sales and design teams to communicate project data with each other and with other areas of your business. You can turn around detailed and customized proposals to customers quickly and avoid pricing errors with up-to-date product information and pricing. 2020 Worksheet is the essential tool for your entire business for quoting and specifying commercial furniture.
